

The Western History Association offers the Michael P. Malone Award, given biennially, for the best article, essay, or commentary on state, provincial, or territorial history in North America appearing in a periodical publication. Articles should concentrate on events of historical significance centering on a state, province, or territory in North America. Nominations must be made by the editor of the journal in which the article or essay appeared. Journal editors may consult with their editorial boards when making their nominations but are limited to nominating one article per year. A certificate and $500 cash prize will be awarded to the author of the winning essay. The publisher of the winning essay will receive a certificate (see below for committee listings).

To be eligible for award in 2011, articles should have been published in 2009 or 2010 in a periodical publication.

Application Deadline: July 15, 2011
No Award Given in 2010
