

The Western History Association announces the Utley Book Award to be given annually for the best book published on the military history of the frontier and western North America (including Mexico and Canada) from prehistory through the twentieth century. The award grants $500 to the author and a certificate to the publisher. The prize is supported by contributions from publishers and individuals, and administered by the Western History Association. Books published in the previous calendar year are eligible for submission. Publishers may submit more than one title from their list. The winner will be announced during the Western History Association's annual conference in October. Publishers or authors should submit a letter of nomination and a copy of the book to each member of the award committee by the deadline below (see below).

To be eligible for award in 2010, book must have been published in 2009.

Application deadline: July 16, 2010
